Woke up a few times. Walked Malecon on 2nd cup of coffee 6:15. Most good mornings minus SMUG at Doorway to Hell corner with dog. I got angry. 17 Grease Lightnings/Leg Swings on middle-r pole as my anger forgot the (original corner) location. Rolled in at 7:15AM to BK pancakes banana with queso crumble.

I went to word typed this email. Transcribed more work. Ate fried rice with real soy sauce & chalula. I used salsa de soya. Went back to writing/smoking finished at 3:30pm.

I felt bad about the 6 hours with or without the cigarettes. Listened to my 3 songs.

Water truck get water. Lisseth wanted money for her mom's hospital trip $20. I turned CPU back on for Western Union. Get the process over with. Firefox updated itself without WIFI Hardware on. It didn't did must've updated while using previously. I just think of the humor.

 The system always needs to reboot in order to fully install anything. I just don't consider Firefox a smarter product but I do know that you probably cannot get an installation completed without the internet itself. It could get other things done but not without hardware. I more than bell curve turn my hardware off while my computer is off. I hate coming to work and having my computer logged into already. **

Us Tree All)

Today is 6/726 and TM is well equipped to continue his own path to happiness. Thank you. He did admit that he didn't have a reset button any more. The process of transfer of old comrades to a new location where they had no purpose, also translated to a difference which was that they can use their reset button and the CPs had removed his upon confrontation. That is the difference: For glory and honor of the front line was indiannation now sparxxnation and doing fine. Have a great day.
