Woke up 6:15AM. Usually on weekdays, I do like to walk with my pencil pen on my left arm with a band. She took her scrunchee off the door. This caused problems with my route plans so I woke her up and bus money and the scrunchee. Took bus 7 to CHP with regular male in dress brown uniform. He was wearing military issue actual boots. They weren't lighter to wax perfect but he's a high schoolers. I did end on street 2 but the ARMY was at the cones. He did salute me. I normally do carry things in my left hand with a free hand salute.

The CPE malecon was emptier than normal chaos sign. I made it through American Gladiators around the church to my 18 Doorway to Hell sign post Grease Lightnings & Leg Swings. I did see “official runners in red”. Not sure which battalion but after the runners front was a walker. I was like “enjoy the day”. I did see a female cheater who let me know when she normally turns around without running to the end and back. Seemed like my strategy too for pushups and jumping jacks.

It was really really really hard not to computer before 9am. I typed the day then tried to do billing with the end of the day. I was aware about 1:50pm. I did listen to my 3 songs. I was alerted about Hallmark and was like send my favorite Italian songs in a card. VS my Ben Folds Five list with the dirtier ones having a warning/sent to some adults. Lots of noise about that. QR code was an option. In the South, we send occasional thank you cards, but we did send some samples of my favorite things. And there were roses in the street. Currency for thank you card.

...she will do finagle some additional minutes to buy BBQ street chuletas. She did try to short change me Butt I reminded her of my gringo tax with no latina present. This is known. You may pay an infinity amount of luxury tax voluntarily; you may go furious over $.65 upcharge on a regular day.

As I commonly relay certain information with pencil compared to one of the fastest brains during cig smoking. I will at least put the phrase down.

“Happiness cannot be found you have to carry IT with you.”

I do acknowledge the class who sent me a John Start Mill quote request. The process of that situation was “the long hustle” or backwards brain to apprentice to apprentice. Result.

“IT was said of John Stuart Mill, that the wold was a better place than if he (IT) had never lived.” - child labor laws E&O+T

He was the 3rd, #1 fight for the labor law and define precedence. #2 use precedences to add more freedoms of factories to hire children. #3 Take #1s paperwork to the notary (the “long hustle” solution paperwork). I will leave for my chuleta as the day has nighted a few minutes now.
