6-12-2026 Friday Notes of Ed Sparks

I woke up at 4am. Listened to silence on the balcony of my thoughts. I really had an issue with satire in my household. Pet names “Captain Suckmytits” “Super Suckmytits” “Move Over Captain Suckmytits” “Crocodile Dundee” “Crack a Smile Dundee” “The Dundy's” kind of like the Bundy's (Dundees).

Is the Deja required? She's the only woman that has been impressive influentially to date as husband supporter. I think her style has been tested & is superior to all non-military wives. She will wear Lineman shirts. I was very impressed in Pomona college.

To this day, I would erase this. Wives don't support their husbands the same way yet the way they do is fall in love all the time. 1 tee-shirt “My husband is a lineman” was the most impressive thing done by a wife. I have no need to explain a question (that) I have already answered.

The King of Spain (In-sult-ant) passed me at the end of Salinas by looping the doorway to Hell lap by lap. So he had done the malecon & 1 lap already.

I walked CHP over the sand to American Gladiators. The ships were gone, and I enjoyed myself about (the thought of) looking at the ships (the day prior). I did hear the horn at night with the lights of the cruiser group.

10am I was walking to complete work & emails to the Popallacy. Lisseth came runnin' in about the bus. The tour bus we have chased for a few days. I turned off went out. The dude made her walk the bridge to look for someone. I don't prefer. We got his phone number left.

She made lunch, her favorite Carbonara. The dude called and she packed up. Loberia/Chocolatera bus pulled to my building. We went on base. The base is none precision. The first Chocolatera were many boobies. I do not know how they got there. The water is rough on the Pacific. Each wave made blowhole sounds...

... the whole place is desert rock. Forms a point with small paths to walk. The winter is hot until noon then 71 degrees.

Our 2nd bus to Loberia. We have walked this before 5k each way. We saw a male lobo. So we investigated moreso than others at the lookout gazebo. The male was large and we have walked the physical beach 2 or 3x. We know that lobos swim and beach fast waves or no waves.

She thought we were pressed on time and we still walked the point to find no lobo island. The breeze is there and bus back we did. I finished work Nap 5 mins.

Liseth went to church. I did a cold beach, No Way. Dark chuleta at the BBQ spot. Super good. Walked back fast and sat on the balcony. Fell asleep 8pm.
