6-6-2026 Thursday Notes of Ed Sparks

I woke up at 3:30am. Sent email (form) instructions to Lambo about our acknowledgments. Maybe they should ask the accountant today. I do try to nap during the process. Day shift during machinest hour is a E&O +T for sleepiness.

I walked after coffee. 6:15am The King of Spain entourage met me two steps ahead with an hola. I do (not) like to be passed by the residents. Not interesting, but today I felt like passing me was a travesty. 27 Grease Lightnings/leg swings/bench push ups. The walk back was refreshing. Homeless dogs are fire hydrant guardians, but they do play in the water in a group or bark by themselves while waves and swimming is on their minds.

Sweden seemed like a priority for a ticket. Get 'er done with everyone else at the same time. Tons of instructions were on the Lambo search and finds. Importants been sleeping in the office, the ticket arrives I agree. I acknowledge.

Lisbeth 7:30'ed instead of 45'd with her cooking class. I went to work typing emails and notebook. BK was banana pancakes & queso criollo. I couldn't really convince myself to go outside as it (foot traffic) was too busy plus super hot. I didn't get paid and paid off more loans & bills. Lisbeth went to WU for $220 in cash. I went to beach for a minute. She returned and lunch was papas mash steak sour cream cheese and chimichurri. Took nap until 5. Went to sunset. Dinner has same. Slept until 15:45. Underwrote.
