6-8-2026 Saturday Notes of Ed Sparks

Woke up at 2:45am. Did not want to email anyone. I emailed the President of Mexico. I emailed the Italian cavalry. I went to walk at 6:15am. The beach is quiet on Monday. The water from last night left in the road. 29 grease lightnings leg swings bench pushups. The King of Spain was renamed to the Sultan. <In-sult-tant.> who caught up with me. I feel better about beating him to the end of the sidewalk. I did take the bus to Chipipe.

Sent POA to <Maria> Victoria & Fatima on Instagram to group up for supermodel beauty queen Miss Universe spouse law suit court battle. Posted spintax worksheet on Facebook with comments about our area. Did not go to beach. Worked work.

Liseth wanted to go to Pizza Hut. The pizza combo was good a little brown today. We're not in Willemstad any more Toto. Bus there <90 seconds>, walk back. Saw another Doorway to Hell at the line sidewalk Salinorenzo. Wondered if today was the day.

We did walk the pier. Big fish were trying to schmooze a fisherman who had no bait on the hook. I asked her if she wanted to continue for fun, she said no.

I just feel that the Serio Toral II strategy keeps you in your house. I do understand everyone else goes home. The sun is too powerful for day activities either way.
